

Think About It:

- Of the 3 types above, which ones will always have a rational solution for integer coefficients? Are there any that will never have a rational value.
- What coefficients, if any, will make expressions of the 3 forms rational?
- Can you think of any coefficients that will lead to negative values? No values?